May brotherly love prevail, and every moral and social virtue cement us.

Look to the East

As we enter into a new masonic year, I would like to leave you the following thoughts on new beginnings and hope for the future.

New beginnings mark the start of growth, renewal, and opportunity. They allow us to release what no longer serves us and make space for fresh ideas, goals, and perspectives. Whether sparked by major life change or a quiet personal decision, a new beginning is a powerful reminder that it is never too late to start again.

A positive outlook for the future helps us move forward with confidence and resilience. By focusing on possibilities rather than limitations, we learn to see challenges as lessons and setbacks as stepping stones. Optimism fuels perseverance, encouraging us to trust the process even when the path ahead feels uncertain.

Together, new beginnings and a hopeful mindset shape a future filled with potential. When we embrace change and believe in what lies ahead, we open ourselves to growth, fulfillment, and meaningful process. The future becomes not something to fear, but something to build—one thoughtful, hopeful step at a time.

Brethren, please do not forget to take a moment, as we always do in our Lodge; to remember the sick, ailing, and those away from their families defending our way of life...and add to it our families.

On the Secretary's Desk

Brethren,

I would like to start off by saying that the outpouring of love and support my family has received during this time in our lives has been truly overwhelming. WB Howard has repeated many times to me, it is who we are and what we do, but I honestly think it is something deeper. I have heard from many individuals how they were disenfranchised by the brotherhood they have felt through many organizations, but Masonry is different. We take care of each other and regardless of creed, views or beliefs, we show up for each other. There is a saying, 'blood is thicker than water', The full saying is, 'the blood of the covenant is thicker than the water of the womb'. Taking the religious aspect out of this, basically it is saying that those we choose to be bound to has a deeper meaning to so many of us. This is what Masonry is, we choose a deeper connection to each other, and with that we show up for each other. With that being said, I want to sincerely say THANK YOU from the Caldwell family to the family who continues to care for us.

'Spread the cement of Brotherly Love and Affection; that cement which unites us into one sacred band, or society of friends and brothers, among whom no contention should ever exist, but that noble contention, or rather emulation, of who can best work and best agree.'

Necrology Report

Brethren,

It is with a heavy heart that we announce the passing of one of our beloved widows, Ms. Helen Canning. Ms. Helen, widow of WB Bob Canning, passed away on 24 January 2026 at Kempton Retirement Community. Her Services will be at 1300 on 30 January 2026 at Jones Funeral Home Chapel. Bob and Helen were married for 61 years and had two daughters, Kim and Donna. Ms. Helen retired from 1st Citizens Bank and was always supportive of her husband's endeavors. She will be fondly remembered as a true southern lady by her friends and family.

Keep watching out for each other and ensure our Brothers are doing well.

Ensure your families know your wishes upon passing. Notifying the Lodge and requesting Masonic Honors (if you so desire) is vital to ensure we get things accomplished according to your wishes.

Masonic Education:

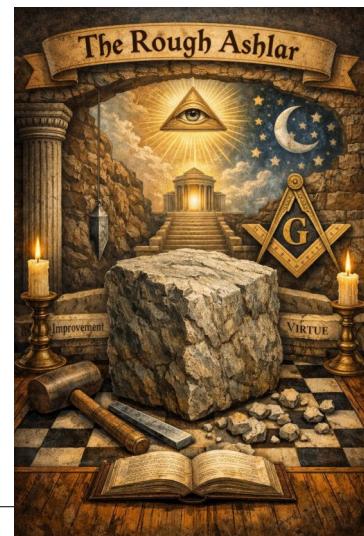

The Rough Ashlar

In Freemasonry, the Rough Ashlar represents man in his natural and imperfect state unrefined, unpolished, and shaped by passions, ignorance, and human frailty. It is the stone as it is first taken from the quarry, bearing rough edges and irregular surfaces, unfit yet for its place in the builder's structure. Symbolically, the Rough Ashlar reminds every Mason of who he was before the Light of Masonry began its work upon him. It stands for the candidate at the start of his journey; sincere, willing, but still in need of discipline, education, and moral improvement.

Through the proper use of the working tools—self-control, reflection, study, and brotherly guidance, the Mason labors upon his own Rough Ashlar. Each stroke represents an effort to subdue vice, correct errors, and cultivate virtue. The work is personal and lifelong; no other man can properly shape the stone for us.

The lesson of the Rough Ashlar teaches humility. It reminds us that all men begin imperfect, and that true Masonry is not about claiming perfection, but about committing to continuous improvement. By faithfully working on our Rough Ashlar, we prepare ourselves to be made ready for a more noble purpose, fitting into the moral and spiritual temple not made with hands.

In this way, the Rough Ashlar calls every Mason to labor, not on stone, but on himself.
